Executive Summary

VANTAGE Aging has a longstanding reputation as experts in the field of aging and our awareness of population trends and existing programming enables us to utilize our strengths to serve the needs of the whole person as they age.

In 2016, the Supplemental Poverty Measure showed a poverty level for persons age 65 and over 14.5% (more than 5 percentage points higher than the official rate of 9.3%). This increase is mainly due to including medical out-of-pocket expenses in the poverty calculations.

Increasing the financial stability of older adults is important to society to avoid having this growing population falling on the Medicaid roles. Our strategy is to provide programs and services that either increase the income of older adults (i.e. SCSEP) or decrease expenses (i.e. Meals on Wheels).

Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University projects that both the number of very old individuals (age 85+) and individuals with independent living difficulties or self-care difficulties, who are most likely to need long-term care services and living supports, are projected to grow by approximately 60% by 2030.

Improving people’s wellness also has an impact on increasing their financial stability. Wellness includes, but is not limited to, physical, mental and attitudinal wellness. Our strategy is to provide programs and services that promote wellness (i.e. Home Wellness Solutions, Meals on Wheels, Chronic Wellness Education), thereby impacting financial stability.

Successful collaboration is critical to the success of our aging population. The American Society on Aging talks about the 17 trillion-dollar opportunity to engage older adults in impacting our communities by using their time, treasure and talent. We will seek to harness that power in our services (i.e. RSVP, Encore Staffing Network, SCSEP).

We also recognize that there are many special needs related to older adults that may not fit into our current programs or services. Our strategy is to utilize collaboration and collaborate with other organizations that can “fill the gap” for the older adults we serve when appropriate. Only when no one is there to “fill the gap” will we look to Purpose 6 of our organization which is “To develop additional services as needed to serve people as they age”.
